

Lady Gregory's taste in art was honed across Europe, but her passion for language and story was ignited when listening to the people she lived among in the West of Ireland. She encouraged playwrights, both at the Abbey, and in her Coole Park home which she opened to them, to pursue excellence from their own perspective and in their own vernacular.

LADY GREGORY AFTERNOON TEA

The Westbury is delighted to introduce our Lady Gregory Afternoon Tea to The Gallery.

The Lady Gregory Afternoon Tea has been created in partnership with The Abbey Theatre, with desserts inspired by a very unique theatrical theme.

The remarkable Lady Augusta Gregory co-founded The Abbey Theatre and was a pioneering force in shaping Ireland's cultural landscape.

In the spirit of Lady Gregory's trailblazing legacy, the Afternoon Tea will be inspired by plays that have graced the Abbey Theatre's stage over the last 120 years, all written by the iconic Lady Augusta.

Title: Spreading the News
Playwright: Lady Augusta Gregory
Year performed at the Abbey Theatre: 1904

In a small village in rural Ireland, a new magistrate inspects stalls at the local fair, expecting the worst. Because of Mrs. Tarpey's hearing impairment and the villagers' love of gossip, a misunderstanding arises and starts to take root, leading to a false arrest for a murder that never happened...

Spreading the News is a short one-act comic play set on the outskirts of a town fair by co-founder of the Abbey Theatre, Lady Augusta Gregory. Lady Gregory wrote the play for the opening night of the Abbey Theatre in 1904. The Abbey is celebrating 120 years since it opened its doors with this very play in 2024 with a celebration named after the playwright and co-founder, 'The Gregory Project'.

COCONUT PANNA COTTA & GOLDEN PINEAPPLE GEL

Rich coconut panna cotta topped with toasted coconut & homemade pineapple compote

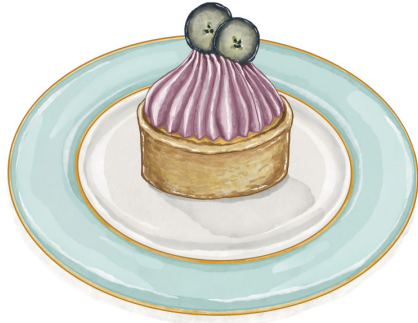

Title: The Golden Apple

Playwright: Lady Gregory

Year performed at the Abbey Theatre: 1973

Lady Gregory's fable for young audiences is written in her invented dialect of Kiltartan. The King of Ireland is dying and needs the golden apple, the elixir of life. His son, Rury, has to brave the wood of wonders, the giant's castle, the mountain of flame, and the hill of the pointed spears to win the apple.

LEMON AND BLUEBERRY TART

A crisp shortcake tart shell, filled with a zesty lemon curd & a homemade blueberry jam, blueberry cream & spring flowers

Title: Grania

Playwright: Lady Gregory

Year performed at the Abbey Theatre: 2024

Despite having the title of the daughter of the King of Ireland, Grania has no power as a young woman in her country. She is soon to be married off to Finn, a wealthy and respected warrior who is much older than she is, and she is content to do so. It is what is expected of her. However, when she sees Diarmuid, with whom she fell in love years ago, Grania's desires completely change. When the actions of her competing lovers seem to label her nothing more than a piece of property, to be coveted or neglected, Grania begins to doubt the steadfastness of love in a world filled with jealousy and fears of loneliness.

Coffee flavoured buttercream layered with coffee and Tia Maria soaked sponge, a layer of chocolate ganache, chocolate glaze and golden chocolate coffee beans

Title: The Rising of the Moon

Playwright: Lady Gregory

Year performed at the Abbey Theatre: 1970

On a moonlit night in Galway, three policemen are posting wanted notices offering a £100 reward. An Irish rebel has escaped prison and they fear he may slip their clutches by taking a boat. As he keeps watch on the pier, one of the policemen encounters a poor ballad singer, Jimmy Walsh. The play's title, The Rising of the Moon, is taken from the traditional Irish ballad of the same name, which depicts a battle between the United Irishmen, led by Theobald Wolfe Tone and the British Army during the Irish Rebellion of 1798.

Title: Dervorgilla

Year performed at the Abbey Theatre: 1991

Set in the Middle Ages, this play tells the story of Dervorgilla, a noblewoman who is married off to an older, wealthy man against her will. She falls in love with her husband's nephew, Diarmuid, and the two elope, causing a feud between their families. The play explores themes of love, loyalty, and betrayal, as well as the tensions between different social classes in medieval Ireland.

THE ABBEY THEATRE

Created by visionaries, the Abbey Theatre has always been an arena for art and ideas.

The Abbey Theatre was founded as a national theatre for Ireland by W.B. Yeats and Lady Gregory in 1904. These revolutionaries defined the ambition of the Abbey Theatre with their manifesto “to bring upon the stage the deeper emotions of Ireland”.

The Westbury is grateful for the opportunity to partner with The Abbey Theatre over the past number of years. We look forward to continuing this partnership and working together to create memorable experiences for our guests and audiences.
