WELCOME TO THE DUPONT CIRCLE

Following a dramatic transformation in collaboration with world-renowned designers Martin Brudnizki and the New York-based Clodagh, The Dupont Circle brings style and sophistication to the nation's capital.

The hotel's new dining experience, The Pembroke, described by Tom Sietsema of The Washington Post as "a cut from a different cloth.", Features contemporary American cuisine with global influences. Meanwhile, Doyle, a warm, lounge-like bar and a popular hub among DC's cosmopolitan set, offers panoramic views of Dupont Circle and cocktail list inspired by the 1950s and 60s, an impressive collection of Irish whiskeys and delicious menus.

Spacious guest rooms epitomize contemporary chic while The Penthouse Level, an exclusive floor made up of 13 suites including the spectacular Grand Penthouse Suite, brings luxury to a whole new level in the city.

GUEST ROOMS

---

Guest rooms recognize the hotel's distinctive 1950's architecture, employing a crisp "modern" aesthetic. Polished dark wood finishes combine with white marble bathrooms and classic mid-century designer furniture and lighting to create a sense of luxurious urban living.

WASHINGTON-POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE

New York is like walking into a film, and Los Angeles is where those films are made. Chicago has muscular high-rise buildings and that lakeside location. But as the seat of Government, of institutions and triumphal boulevards, Washington DC is the true journey into the soul of America.

It's here that the decisions are made that affect the world; here that you'll feel the combined weight of history at the National Mall. The Smithsonian is the world's largest storehouse with no fewer than 19 museums. You'll find early Apple computers, Ford cars and Dorothy's red slippers from the Wizard of Oz at the National Museum of American History on Constitution Avenue; Apollo 11 items at the National Air and Space Museum; Georgia O'Keefe paintings at the American Art Museum – and so much more.

It's a huge undertaking, and you'll need respite. At Arlington National Cemetery, you'll find sepulchral peace, and similarly contemplative moments at John F Kennedy's resting place on Sheridan Drive, plus views of the Lincoln Memorial and Washington Monument. Once rested, don't forget DC's smaller museums. The Phillips Collection in Dupont Circle has a great collection of French impressionist and American modernist masterpieces in a Georgian Revival house.

Newseum is a history by way of journalism, with newsreels and videos, reminding you that here in DC, news is made daily. The Hillwood Museum and Gardens in Cleveland Park – the former home of Marjorie Merriweather Post – has the largest collection of Russian imperial art outside Russia and great gardens while the International Spy Museum celebrates the art of espionage with such crowd pleasers as guns shaped as lipstick holders.

All this knowledge gathering demands a reward, and near the Mall you can stroll through famous Georgetown, where period houses are populated by the city's power-brokers. With cafés and bars, it's a great place to hang out and perhaps to hire a bicycle and pedal alongside The Potomac River. Washington will leave you wanting more.

At the heart of our business is a warmth of service that stems from our family ownership, imbuing our properties with the familiarity of a member's club and the intimacy of a private home. Each of our eight hotels – landmark buildings in unrivalled city locations, has its own distinct personality that is rooted in, and authentic to, its neighbourhood.

Innovation and ongoing investment ensure a boutique, cosmopolitan yet local feel – as seen in our cool destination restaurants, bars and event spaces – while our heritage lends character to our vision of informal luxury, timeless style and the very best guest experience.
